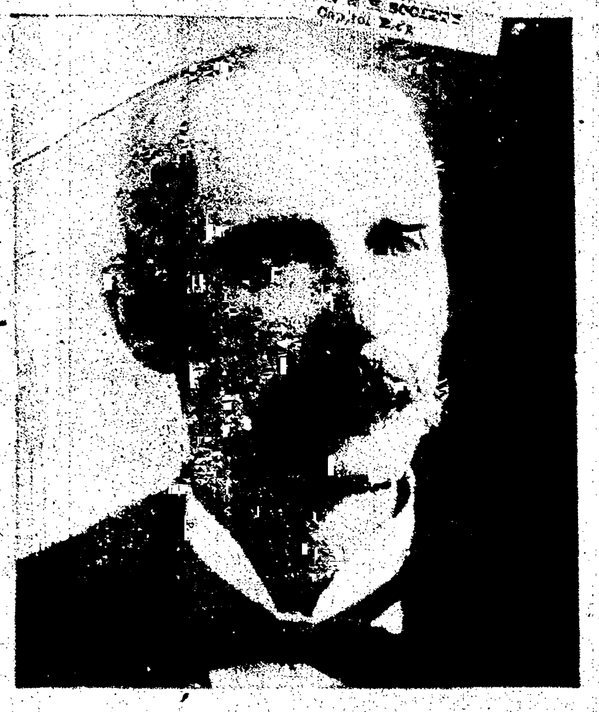
ONLY TWO VOTES AGAINST NICARAGUA CANAL BILL

The House of Representatives Passed Hepburn's Measure By Practically Unanimous Vote With Amendment.

CONFIRMED BY SENATE

Nomination of Shaw as Secretary of the Treasury and Payne as Postmaster General.



LESLIE M. SHAW.

By Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The senate in executive session today confirmed the nomination of L. M. Shaw to be secretary of the treasury, and of Hon. Henry C. Payne to be postmaster general.

The confirmation of Mr. Shaw was accomplished without comment, but there was some controversy over the action of the committee on nominations in reporting Mr. Payne's nomination without going through the formality of a meeting.

Senator Rawlins stated that he had desired to appear before the committee for the purpose of requesting that an investigation into the charges against Mr. Payne had been interested in the efforts to secure leases for the purpose of prospecting for minerals on the Indian reservations in Utah, having been dropped out of the Florence Mining company. In this connection, Mr. Payne [illegible] interesting letters presented to the senate by Mr. Rawlins were read.

Senator Spooner, as a representative of Mr. Payne's own state, replied to this statement by reading a letter addressed to himself by Mr. Payne and placed several weeks back, in which Mr. Payne said that his connection with the Postmaster company had terminated two years ago and that at present he has no interest, direct or indirect, immediate or remote, in that corporation.

Mr. Rawlins thereupon said that his investigation was satisfactory, and after some further criticism of the committee on the manner in which the matter was made, namely, by an informal canvass, the nomination was unanimously confirmed. Senator Mason defended the action of the committee as in harmony with numerous precedents, and also spoke eulogistically of Mr. Payne.

REPORT TO SENATE ON THE HEISTAND INQUIRY

By Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 9.—As soon as the senate met today, on motion of Mr. Hale (Maine) the senate agreed that when it adjourned today it be until Monday next.

Mr. Cockrell (Mo.) reported from the committee on military affairs the result of the inquiry that was conducted under the Pettigrew resolution of the last session. No action was taken on the report.

The report cites the charge quoted in the resolution of inquiry; that Colonel Heistand in 1899 was engaged in forming a combination for the purpose of controlling the hemp product of the Philippine islands, and that the names of Assistant Secretary McKeljohn, Assistant Attorney General Boyd, Assistant Secretary Allen and Adjutant General Corbin had been frequently mentioned by him as associates with him in the enterprise.

The committee finds that the charge made in the first paragraph of the preamble to the resolution is not true, the fact in that connection being that Colonel Josh Major, Heistand, about May, 1899, proposed to Major [illegible] who had been major of the Forty-seventh infantry, a scheme for establishing a manufacturing plant in Manila for the manufacture of hemp goods in those islands and suggested to Major Rawles to take charge of it, which offer the latter accepted.

The company then prepared a prospectus and a blank for the names of subscribers, but the incorporation of the company never was consummated.

The committee finds that Heistand and Hawkes canvassed the possibility of interesting the government officials whose names are mentioned in the resolution. It is found that Heistand wrote to Hawkes in 1899, as charged, and also documents and making suggestions about the Philippine tariff, but the committee says that these suggestions were capable of different construction.

As to the report, "impossible for the committee to divine Colonel Heistand's intention when he said: 'Of course the needs of the future will be met as they require, referring to the Philippine tariff."

The committee finds that Hawkes made no aim upon Heistand for compensation for services, but the charge that Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn guaranteed to Hawkes a position in the government service in part settlement of this claim is not substantiated but it is found that Meiklejohn, in March, 1900, appointed Hawkes to the position of inspector of the customs service in the Philippines. The appointment was revoked by Secretary Root in the May following.

Other findings are:

That while Heistand was the projector of the hemp company he was not authorized to represent the other officials who were engaged with him and it is not found that tariff favors would be asked for their benefit.

That the matter of the adjustment of the tariff was never mentioned, directly or indirectly by Colonel Heistand to General Corbin, Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn, Assistant Attorney General Boyd, or Assistant Secretary Allen.

That Heistand asked General Corbin to take stock and as the latter first assented and then declined.

The testimony concerning the charge that Heistand had promises from Assistant Secretary Allen and Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn is repeated without comment, but the following is added:

"Your committee further finds that Assistant Secretary of War G. D. Meiklejohn has not used government positions for the purpose of paying private debts of any officer of the government."

The committee finds that the letter of commendation of Hawkes of date July 23, 1899, signed jointly by Colonel Heistand, Assistant Attorney General Boyd and Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn, was not signed officially by the officers, and also that the words "the government will look with favor on the same," meaning the enterprise, were not in the correct copy of that letter.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON OTERO'S NOMINATION

[illegible] nothing definite to offer in opposition to the governor's conduct of his office or of his standing. The committee, all the members being present except Heitfeld and Quarles, voted unanimously to report the nomination favorably. This undoubtedly ends the contest and Otero's confirmation may be expected Monday.

Senator Teller today introduced bills granting pensions to Milton Reynolds and T. D. Hutton, increasing that of John Milburn and removing the charge of desertion against Louis Loeb.

Senator Patterson presented to the senate today a petition from citizens of Cripple Creek favoring exclusion of Charles from the Colorado delegation

The House of Representatives Passed Hepburn's Measure By Practically Unanimous Vote With Amendment.

CANNON'S VAIN EFFORT TO SECURE DELAY

By Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 9.—In advance of a vote on the Nicaragua canal bill today there was a large attendance on the floor when the house met. Under the order made yesterday the general debate was to close at 2 o'clock, when the bill was to be read for amendment under the five minute rule. Mr. Adamson (Ga.), the last speaker today, urged the passage of the Hepburn bill without amendment. He argued that the time had come for action and that equivocation now could only result in delay in the commencement of the canal.

If the Panama company [illegible] to make what we could accept, he said, there would be time enough to take advantage of it when the [illegible] was pending as to the [illegible] in conference.

Why You Should Have Your Pictures Framed Here

Because we can give you the best service. We do not consider cost when we buy framing materials. We get the best. We buy the best moulding from the best makers.

We buy French glass, and throw part of that away, that our glass may be the best. We employ only skilled workmen.

In fact every part of our framing is as good as we can make it.

A distinguished visitor from abroad, after spending several hours looking through the art collection of one of the local schools, commented on the artistic manner in which the pictures were framed. We did the framing.

In fact we do the best framing for the best homes as well as the schools of Colorado Springs and vicinity.

We do not do CHEAP work. We do GOOD work, and any one who tells you that our prices are just as low as quality will permit—probably less than you have been in the habit of paying.

Let us do your particular framing.

WORK ON NEW LINE PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Work on the Suburban line to Manitou is progressing very rapidly, and it is the expectation to have the entire route double tracked from Colorado Springs to and through Manitou up to the junction of Manitou and Ruxton avenues and the Pass avenue. From Ruxton the Manitou Railway and Cascade company will run its line to Iron Springs and the Cog road depot. This arrangement will enable most of the residents of Manitou to ride to their homes for a 10-cent fare instead of 15 as at present.

The entire hill east of the Ruxton hotel and south of the present tracks of the street car line will be taken out and the station built there, with the loop encircling it. Grading on the hill has already begun.

The curves along the route just east of Manitou near the Feaney cottage will be taken out, and the tracks, instead of crossing the driveway as they do now, will go directly through the Bell property.

A large force of workmen is employed as it is the intention to have most of the work completed by July 1. After that time, the work will have to cease until October 1. The management of the Suburban company say that it is not probable that the loop will be completed in time to profit by the summer traffic, but all the route will be double tracked, thus affording a rapid service.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Nelson and son have returned from their eastern trip and will probably remain in Manitou for the rest of the winter. The Cliff house is to undergo considerable renovation and improving before March 1, the date of the opening. A number of tourist excursion parties have already been booked to stop over in Manitou during the earlier part of March.

The young ladies of the Wednesday club gave a fancy dress party at the home of Miss Eur but on Wednesday night. All of the ghosts and goblins were dressed to represent some character in fact or history. It was a very pleasant affair, and reflected credit upon the hostess, as well as the members of the club.

The funeral of John Groves, who died in Manitou on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, was held yesterday at his late residence, 433 South Manitou. The pupils of the High school contributed a beautiful floral offering. Mr. Groves was well known and generally beloved. Although his death was not a surprise, it was none the less mournful.

Lieutenant Booth and wife, a few days ago from Puerto Rico and after visiting his parents in Manitou, proceeded to Manila. Mr. and Mrs. Booth are the guests of Mrs. A. Ray Jones.

Session of State Board of Equalization

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Denver, Jan 9.—The state board of equalization today held one of the most interesting sessions in its history. The board had a fast coming string to work and today was given over to the representatives of a final hearing. At the request of Governor Orman, ex-Governor Thomas appeared and related his experiences while he was governor. He said in substance that he spent six months out of the 24 while he was as governor, in studying the question of the valuation of corporate property. When he was elected governor he was of the opinion that the corporations failed to pay their just share of taxes, but by the end of his term he had reached the conclusion that from 98 to the close of his term as governor, the corporations paid from 15 to 20 per cent more taxes according to the real value of their property than was paid on any other class of property in the state. The ex-governor does not believe that today the corporation tax could be collected if it was any higher than that of any other property, according to the relative valuation.

Following ex-Governor Thomas came Attorney McPherson, representing the Pullman Palace Car company. Mr. McPherson was brief, but he talked to the point, as far as it went. The taxes which the Pullman Palace Car company pay in Colorado are getting to be so high that if they are increased the people of the state may be compelled to do without Pullman car accommodations. We pay 50 per cent of our net earnings in Colorado for Colorado taxes." Mr. McPherson practically said that we were forced to pay the tax as levied by the state board of assessors, the Pullman company will be compelled to quit doing business in the state. Should they retire, the shops located in this city would be a crushing blow to Denver, and would for the time being greatly injure the entire state.

The next gentleman to appear before the board was E. T. Rogers, representing the Colorado & Eastern Railroad company. This road is 148 miles long and extends from the Fort Smith street shops in Denver to Staunton. It is a narrow gauge and only one train is operated each way daily, merely to hold the franchise. In making his plea for a lower valuation Mr. Rogers said: "The Colorado & Eastern appears before you asking for a decrease in valuation. Our line extends 148 miles out of Denver into space and is a legal to have 'bounce rails.' It has been built 25 years. Our rolling stocks consists of one engine, bought of the Rio Grande in 1875, for which we pay $400. We also have one flat car. We give very employment; four men." When asked "What do you use the road for?" Mr. Rogers said: "That question I do not think I can answer, unless it is to give the four men employment. We do operate the road to retain the franchise. We keep the track because we can't run the engine without it. Our receipts for 1901 were as follows.

Coal fees sold	$8.75
Ore from mile	277.87
Rents	87.00
Freight receipts	53.83
Passenger receipts	62.80
Total	570.24
Total expenses	6,770.80
Leaving a balance on the wrong side of the ledger of	$6,200.56

This company only hold its track because of its probable value at some time as a right of way. It also owns considerable land in the heart of the mining section of the city.

A representative for the Denver Lakewood & Golden railroad also appeared before the board.

After the meeting, the representatives of all the corporations gathered in the reception room of the governor's office, and in an informal way discussed the situation. There was a consensus of opinion that when the board equalization very materially increased the values, the roads would fight their assessments in the court. In many cases they claimed it would be necessary to pay the taxes "but earnings would fall far below the amount levied for taxes. The board decided not to continue the hearings tomorrow. The day will be given over to newspaper propositions. The managers of the several other dailies will be requested to appear before the board and make any and all suggestions as to the proper way to assess corporate property that they may deem best. Notices were sent out to this effect today. It is intimated, but it seems as though this action indicates that the board wishes secretly to have newspapers come to assess the corporate property to appear before them and designate how they themselves can be put into the state.

Late this evening the supreme court denied the motion for a writ of supersedeas in the Jeannette Rose case. This is taken to mean that she must serve her term in the penitentiary. She was convicted of assisting a man named McMichaels out of town.

The American Bonding and Trust company of Baltimore today took out a certificate of authority to do business in this state. Their agent here is located in Colorado Springs. The Colorado Stone & Fire Clay company of Colorado City was also incorporated. It has a capital stock of $50,000. The incorporators are: Charles Cresswell, C. E. Allen, and Guy C. Allen. Another incorporation was the Great American Tunnel mining, milling, Power and Transportation company of Georgetown. It is incorporated for $1,000,000. The directors are as follows: George W. Kendall, A. Lesley, Joan S. White, Henry Kinsell, M. Gentry.

Judge Owens is determined to enforce part, toward breaking up the "crooked" gambling element in Denver. Since last Sunday he has been sitting as police judge in the remains court. He has seen to it that all persons convicted have received the full sentence of the law. This morning in sentencing a prisoner who was convicted of gambling Judge Owens said: "I am determined while I am in the city to do all in my power to make the reign of terror now existing come to an end. Every criminal convicted in my court will be taught to feel the weight of his sentence. I have been informed that a number of gamblers have opened places of business in the county in order to escape the operations of the police commissioners in the city. I am informed that one of the gamblers who has been operating in the county is a member of the police force of Denver. I am informed that he has been in the habit of visiting his place of business in the county during the hours when he should be on duty in the city

THE GROWTH OF COLORADO CITY.

One of the best proofs of the growth of any community is given by the increasing demand upon the public school system. Indeed the school census may often serve as a basis for determining the actual population of a city and very reliable estimates may be had in this way.

Comparatively few of the people of Colorado Springs realize how rapidly and to what an extent our nearest neighbor is growing in municipal importance. Colorado City is now, under the state law, a city of the second class, the same as Colorado Springs was up to less than a year ago. It did not lose in the change of its larger neighbor, it would be recognized as one of the best, most progressive and most promising among the smaller cities of the state. On Wednesday afternoon the taxpayers of Colorado City unanimously voted to issue school bonds to the amount of $45,000. This sum of money will be used for the erection of two new school houses, one of which will be built on the south side of Fountain creek near the chlorination works, while the other one will be erected on the southeastern part of the city.

The voting of these bonds and the decision to proceed immediately with the construction of these new school houses is a sufficient demonstration of the progress and growth of Colorado City. At the same time we are informed that a syndicate composed of local and eastern capitalists has purchased a valuable tract of land south of the Midland shops and near the Colorado Reduction company's new mill, and will immediately make extensive improvements on the property.

There is every indication that Colorado City is bound to make a very rapid growth in the near future and the best of it is that this growth rests upon a sure foundation of natural resources and advantages which are sufficient to insure a permanent prosperity for many years to come.

THE MINNESOTA PRIMARY ELECTION LAW.

In current political discussion we are hearing a good deal about the Minnesota primary election law, and the advisability of its adoption in this state as a means of correcting some of the political abuses that have arisen here.

In the October number of the Review of Reviews there will be found an excellent article written by A. L. Benedict, and entitled, "The Minnesota Primary Election Law—Experience Under It Up to Date." As this number of the magazine may not be accessible to Gazette readers, a statement of the principal features of the law will no doubt be acceptable to them. The author of the Minnesota primary election law passed by the state legislature in 1899 claims originality for it in the following particulars:

"1. Concurrent primaries for all parties on one day, under compulsion.

"2. Primary election held on registration day for general election.

"3. Registration machinery used for the election, thus saving expense.

"4. Alternation of positions of names of candidates on ballots, so that every other ballot has names in different locations.

"Add to these features the Australian ballot, almost the same as voted at the general election, and you have the Minnesota primary election plan in a nutshell."

The object of the law is to take the selection of the candidates out of the hands of the professional political manipulators or bosses, and to place it where it rightfully belongs with the people. That it has accomplished this purpose in Minnesota does not admit of any doubt, and there is every reason to believe that it would do the same thing if tried in Colorado or elsewhere. Under the present law and custom in this state, whether the candidates are nominated at a primary election, or by ward caucus, it usually happens that the nominations are more and controlled by a small number of political workers. Sometimes these nominations are strictly in accordance with the wishes of the better element of the party and coincide very closely with what the result would be under the Minnesota plan. But too often it happens that improper influences are brought to bear, and the resulting nominations are such that they receive the party support and the party vote only as a choice of the lesser evil, as compared with the ticket of the other party which has been selected in the same way.

Public sentiment in Colorado has nearly reached the point where it demands a fair trial of the Minnesota system, and it is the general belief of those who are most desirous of advancing the political standard and of promoting the general welfare of the people of the state, that this plan if tried would prove a sufficient remedy for many of our political evils, and when once tried would be so satisfactory that there would be no thought of a return to the present system.

AMERICAN RAILWAYS IN CHINA.

An important news item comes from New York to the effect that the American China Development company will continue the construction of the railroad from Canton to Hankow. This line will furnish the main trunk railroad through the southern part of China, and will connect with the Belgian railroad now building from Hankow northward to Peking. The railroads to be built by the American line have a population twice as great as that of the United States and are rich in agricultural and mineral wealth. The other provinces of these provinces are tea, silk, cotton, rice and grain.

The new line is an important development toward increasing the trade of China with foreign lands and a creation of a new market for American manufactures. It will undoubtedly assist in increasing the volume of our trade and in promoting and maintaining the prosperity of the country.

Some people seem to be beginning to share an inkling of the fact that the operation of immigration laws should be

FRENCH-WRITER PRAISES M'KINLEY.

In the opinion of ex-Senator William J. Chandler the president of the United States has too much to do.

Mr. Chandler asserts that a president has now only three objects in life—first, to see 20,000 people a year; second, to accomplish 2,000 things, and, third, to try to do 200 gross things. In the seeing of so many thousand people about trivial matters and in giving his attention to the thousand of little things the president, Mr. Chandler insists, is worn out and becomes physically unable to grapple with the great problems to which he ought to give his undivided attention. Mr. Chandler cites from personal knowledge the cases of presidents who have almost succumbed under the strain, instancing particularly President Arthur, in whose cabinet he was the secretary of the navy, and President McKinley, to whose impaired health Mr. Chandler attributes inability to recover from the shock of the assassin's bullet. Mr. Chandler expresses his regret that President Roosevelt, "even with his quickness, his acuteness, and his present unfailing industry and unbounded energy, has given countenance to the idea that he will continue approaching himself and hear all that anyone has to say concerning any appointment." Mr. Chandler thinks that the great weight of the pressure for office ought to fall upon the cabinet ministers, and that the president ought to have more time for important things.

Mr. Chandler's views do not have the merit of novelty, for this matter has been pretty thoroughly discussed before, but there are some reasons why the present is a particularly opportune time for reviving the agitation.

"What is wanted in the person of Mr. Roosevelt," says Mr. Chandler, "and in every other person whom the twentieth century may see in the White house, is a president who will be allowed to serve the whole people with all his heart and strength, with all his mind and body, in the discharge of his official duties, unhampered by the pressure upon him of so many thousands of his countrymen as have in recent years encroached upon the time and patience of our presidents and kept them from their public work, or compelled them to do it by impairing their physical health and overstraining their mental powers. The time has come when access to the president, except at public receptions, should be limited to the cabinet ministers, senators, representatives and ambassadors, and to such other persons only as are given interviews for public purposes after written applications have been received and carefully considered. The public receptions of the president should be few and there should be no intrusions upon his social life, which he should be allowed to regulate according to his own wishes and pleasure, and no person should take offense because not invited to his presence or find fault with his selection of his company, whatever may be the race or color.

"This needed change of custom would, at first, no doubt, be unpopular. It would be commenced as unrepublican exclusiveness. It would require to begin the new rule a president who has been a man of the people, who is known to be at heart thoroughly democratic in all his dealings and ways, and who is also strong in his convictions and fearless in his actions. Is not Mr. Roosevelt such a president? Will he inaugurate the reform?"

The argument is not all on Mr. Chandler's side. It is fair to ask, for instance, what better work can occupy the president's attention than to see that the great machinery is running smoothly throughout the union, to know that the federal appointees in the various states are men of good character and ability, and to listen to complaints that may come from the people. Even in the days of absolutism, the king's duty included the hearing of complaints and the redressing of wrongs, and the good king was the one who did this part of his work most thoroughly. Why should a republican president be less in touch with the common people?

Possibly if the president were not so occupied with these matters he would undertake other things. But what could he do? Should he interfere with the work of the cabinet ministers? Should he venture upon the ground that congress holds with such a jealous regard for its prerogatives?

As for the cabinet officers it is very much to be doubted whether it would be an improvement to confine to them the distribution of the immense patronage of the government.

PLANS OF AN AMERICAN SYNDICATE.

The plans of an American syndicate are carried purpose Mohammedans will shortly be able to visit the tomb of the prophet by trolley car, and the pilgrimage which is necessary to every devotee of Islam can be made as rapidly and commodiously as the trip from Colorado Springs to Manitou. The present proposition is that a syndicate of Cleveland and Chicago capitalists shall build an electric line from Cairo in Egypt to Mount Sinai and thence along the coast of the Red Sea through Syria and Arabia to Mecca. A branch is to connect Damascus with the system at Mount Sinai.

There is a striking incongruity in the connection of these ancient names with so very modern a thing as a trolley line. The proposed route follows that pursued by the Israelites in their journey from Egypt into Palestine, and it seems almost sacrilegious to think of journeying in this way where Moses and Joshua and the children of Israel passed in such trepidation so many centuries ago. But we are told that the "proposition" is a good one, and that a single one of the annual Mohammedan pilgrimages to Mecca will pay a handsome profit on the cost of construction. A trolley line is a ready means of communication between Jerusalem and Galilee, and it seems probable that before long all places however remote or however sacred will be open to the curious or the devout by means of the steam railway and the trolley car.

Rudyard Kipling's latest poem is a verse appeal to Englishmen to adopt conscription and a standing army according to the system of continental Europe. Calling on a more unanimous test there is not a vast majority of anything of the kind. A few months ago "universal compulsory military service for all able-bodied citizens" was a scarcely less repugnant to American ideas as it is to Americans, and it would take much worse disasters than any that have come to the British empire so far to make any change in public sentiment upon the point. A real foreign war might drive the matter to conclusion, but a single poem will not do it.

We take pleasure in informing the readers of the Gazette that Mr. C. S. Jones, who has recently been traveling in Mexico for the benefit of his health, has recovered sufficiently to resume literary work and has, therefore, established his headquarters at the Antlers hotel, where all letters will be addressed.

Tammany is up and the question now is, will the people of New York upon election day knock it down and keep it down with Tammany still in?

FROM THE PRESS OF THE NATION.

Consecration Here.

(Kansas City Journal.)

Even our boorish rough rider in the White house turned craven? Is he afraid to meet the public face to face, lest some wicked anarchist do him personal injury? Or is he so exercised by the sense of official greatness that he does not deign to come in contact with the dirty populace? How are we to account for his refusal to give the glad hand to those who called at the White house to participate in the New Year reception? All former presidents including Mr. Roosevelt's immediate predecessor, shook hands with visitors at public receptions. Last Wednesday, however, callers had to content themselves with gazing upon the impressive form and classic features of the chief executive. They were not permitted to approach and extend the greeting in the good old way, with warm handclasp as between friend and friend. They were passed and bowed their good wishes, and received some grins and bows in return. And really that is probably all they should have expected. An emperor, ruler or president from the old-fashioned monarchical point of the people and must be approached differently. The New Year callers could have should consider themselves fortunate in being permitted to look upon the august personage who rules millions of subjects in two hemispheres. Perhaps at the next New Year reception they will be received to shake hands and offering their good wishes."

The above is not taken from the columns of an esteemed contemporary. It is merely an example of what would have appeared in sundry Democratic journals if President Roosevelt had declined to shake hands with the public at his reception. But the president did not decline; he gave his hand freely, and his estimable wife did the same. Consequently the comment in Democratic journals was of a different tone. An extract from the esteemed Chicago Chronicle will suffice to illustrate, as follows:

"Mr. Roosevelt's first official New Year's reception at the White house is not calculated to increase national confidence in his temperament. Instead of abolishing the stupid handshake, as it was believed and hoped by the entire country he would do, he not only pumphandled 8,000 persons himself but subjected his far less muscular wife to the same senseless ordeal. In no other part of the civilized world is muscular torture included among the tokens and symbols of courtesy of a public character. It is easy to allege that the sinewy rough rider was not fatigued. The pardonable vanity as a man of fighting capacity was doubtless gratified. The experience must have cruelly fatigued the mistress of the White house. The president's failure to abolish public handshaking is a material disappointment to the nation. The squalid rite lacks every element of reason, grace and distinction. It makes a town pump run cry of a public official and leaves the pump wrecking after it is all over whether the pump wants to acknowledge the fact or not. It ought to be abolished. In time it will be and Mr. Roosevelt will not get the credit of the reform."

It is simply impossible to circumvent the Democratic organs when they have a chance to reach for the caphrasm of a Republican president. It is their mission in life to point out the mistakes and weakness of high Republican officials and there is no escape from their merciless vivisection. If the president does this and that he will be condemned roundly. If he fails to do this and that, his condemnation is equally severe and sure from the same source. To apply the penalty is not death or life imprisonment or even passing discomfort.

HOW THE MONEY IS MADE.

The Paper on Which Our Money Is Printed Is Jealously Guarded from Pulp to Press.

If there is any secret which Uncle Sam jealously guards it is the process of manufacturing the fibre paper upon which his money notes are printed. He pays a Massachusetts firm 48 cents a pound for it, and this firm does its work under the surveillance of a government agent. This paper is manufactured of the finest rags, boiled and reduced into pulp. As it is rolled into thin sheets silk threads are introduced into it by a secret process. These are the distinguishing marks making imitation of the paper well-nigh impossible. The sheets of paper, a ready counted twice and placed in uniform packages, at the paper mill, are stored in a treasury vault and issues to the bureau of engraving and printing as wanted. Before leaving the treasury they are counted three times more, and the receiving official at the bureau must receipt for them. Then the bundles are unwrapped and the sheets are counted 28 times by a corps of women. Care is taken that each printer gets the recorded number—no more, no less. If one sheet of the precious paper be lost the entire force of men and women having access to the room where the misplacement has occurred are kept in, sometimes for days, until the sheet is found. Each sheet is issued from the vault for the printing of a definite amount of money upon it. If the bad sheet were intended to ultimately represent $1,000 worth of notes the group of employes to whom the responsibility of its misplacement has been traced must make good that amount if they cannot locate it within a reasonable time. The most expensive loss which has thus occurred was of a blank sheet issued for the printing of $1.80 upon its face.—(John Martin Watkins, Jr., in the January Ladies' Home Journal.

The Consecration Here.

The Karakhan shepherd is a regular savage—he is innumerable are afloat as to his kinship with the fairies and the mountain winds. Two or a year only, in autumn and in spring, he is to be seen in the white felts, mounted by a few pounds, who look like wolves, and are almost as mysterious as their master. The sheepcote opens six months in utter solitude on the high meadows of the larger pass. It is crossed in a coarse white felt, wear enough, and also one of goat hair. Here the raven lives, and here only on the steppes. The white felt enable one to live in a state of cleanliness, but most women, the men, in some way too loaded with the dirt of the sheepcote, to be visible. The verse street accords the character of the shepherd, the women being to be visited, however, on the days when the men are away. Each shepherd's family is entitled to a certain number of sheep, and it is on the increase of these that he lives in the winter's pasture. Besides the sheep, the shepherd tends a number of the Karakhanida, which are of the same kind as those of the Karakhan. The Karakhan is a native of the Karakhan, and is a native of the Karakhan. The Karakhan is a native of the Karakhan, and is a native of the Karakhan. The Karakhan is a native of the Karakhan, and is a native of the Karakhan. The Karakhan is a native of the Karakhan, and is a native of the Karakhan.

SERVICE AFTER BOULDER OIL

Local Capital is Getting in on Ground Floor Where Indications Are Most Favorable.

Colorado Springs capitalists have a reputation for getting in on the ground floor when there is anything good to get and they are making the Boulder oil exploration no exception to the rule from which this reputation has come. Reports from Boulder state that the new well which was announced a day or two ago as having real values in oil has been cased and that the estimated product of the new well is from 200 to 250 barrels per day.

Shortly before noon yesterday the Boubright and DeLaVergne interests of Colorado Springs closed a deal with the Consolidated Oil, Leasing and Development company for $42,000 whereby the properties of this company will be operated jointly by the owners and the other Colorado Springs people.

Messrs. G. C. Reinning and C. H. White of the El Paso National bank telegraphed Secretary Page at Boulder to reserve them 100 acres of land in the vicinity of the new well.

Company Says Rates Are Not Exorbitant

The charges made by a number of the druggists of this city that the Colorado Springs Electric company is charging exorbitant rates for electric lights, created much discussion among merchants yesterday. The officers of the electric company deny that high rates are charged, and declare that the cheap rates in Denver and Manitou are due to unusual competition, which will soon come to an end. One of the directors of the Colorado Springs Electric company said yesterday:

"The rates in this city average with the rates of the stations of the country, and are lower than any town of the size west of the Mississippi river, where steam is used.

"Ninety-one per cent of the stations of the country sell by meter exclusively. It is the only fair method to consumer and station, and it is a settlement of the question made after long and wide experience.

"The comparison with rates in Manitou and Denver is with all on where a fight for annihilation is on. The end is consolidation, and higher rates than ever, to meet the cost of this fight.

"The old arc light was called a 2,000-candle power light. This was a mere trade designation. Not one of the lights in Colorado Springs ever reached this amount, or approached it. The new light in actual watts of electricity consumed is as much as the old, and is practically as expensive to furnish. It is the light now accepted as the best, are light in existence by the stations of the country."

Drug Stores To Become Pay Telephone Stations

If the present plans of the Colorado Springs druggists are carried out probably every drug store in this city will be a pay station on the local and long distance telephone system. At a meeting held by the druggists Wednesday afternoon a committee was appointed to confer with officials of the telephone company concerning the project. No conference has yet been held, but one will probably take place in a day or two.

All the drug stores have been equipped with telephones which have been used heretofore free of cost by the patrons of the stores. If the new scheme is adopted the phones will no longer be free. The idea is to have the company install slot machine phones in the various stores, and every body who uses them will be required to pay for their use.

The druggists will probably receive a percentage of the receipts of the 'phones.

The committee which is to confer with the telephone company is composed of F. E. Robinson, F. H. Arcularius and A. Jay Ware.

[illegible] CLUB'S THIRD DANCE TONIGHT

About 30 members of the Clover club, of Cripple Creek, will be the guests of the Warwick club tonight at the Warwick's dance at the Antlers. The visitors will arrive here at 5:45 o'clock over the Short Line, and will be given a dinner at the hotel. After the dance they will leave on a special train for home.

The dance, which was postponed from Wednesday evening, will be the second of the season given by the Warwick's club. Harner's orchestra will furnish the music.

SANTA FE STATION [illegible]

The Del Norte street station on the Santa Fe and Colorado & Southern lines has been completed. The station consists of a substantial platform and roof, and seats are provided for passengers.

No trains are stopping at the new suburban station as yet, but soon all passenger trains running between Denver and Pueblo will stop there and the station will become a great convenience to North End residents.

COMPANY SAYS WIRES DIDN'T CAUSE BLAZE

Officials of the Colorado Springs Electric company deny that the fire which destroyed two buildings on the east of Nevada avenue, near Monument street, yesterday morning, was caused by the wires of the company. An investigation of the company made an investigation yesterday and declared that the wires were in no way responsible for the origin of the fire.

"The wires were 15 feet above the roofs of the buildings," said one of the officials of the company. "There were no wires in the buildings and I do not see how electric light wires can be blamed for the origin. Our night patrolman was at the scene before the firemen arrived, and says that our wires above the roof were taut then and that none of them sagged. After the fire burned for a while the heat became so intense that the wires overhead melted and fell."

[illegible] TO BE RECEIVED

The chambers of commerce of Colorado Springs and Colorado City and the officers of the Pikeride Reduction company are needing to have the old road running across the Fountain creek and the hills south of Colorado City improved. One of the improvements necessary is a new bridge across the creek, but the county commissioners have not been inclined to build a new bridge there, thinking the traffic does not demand it.

An effort is being made to have Colorado City make the necessary improvements.

STOCK [illegible] INCORPORATED

A copy of the certificate of incorporation of the Colorado Stock & Grain company which was organized recently to transact a general brokerage and grain business in Colorado Springs, was filed for record yesterday at the office of the county clerk. The capital stock of the new company is $5,000.

The company is incorporated for a period of 20 years. The directors for the first year are Charles T. Burger, William B. Burger and John C. Vanderhoof.

Umbrellas repaired at Savory. Free baths.

CONTRACT FOR MARBLE WORK

Commissioners Met Last Night and Awarded It to Peoria, Ill. Firm For Court House Marble Work.

Another big contract for work on the new county court house was let last night by the county commissioners. The commissioners met and awarded the contract for the interior marble work on the new structure to the Peoria Stone & Marble works of Peoria, Ill., for $19,963. There was only one other bidder, the Denver Marble & Onyx works of Denver. The bid of the latter company was $21,100.

The resolution awarding the contract to the Peoria company was passed at a meeting held by the commissioners last night at the court house. The meeting was held after the usual office hours, and no notice of it was made public. The resolution will probably be given out today.

The contract for the marble work on the interior of the new building includes principally the wainscoating of the hallways and various rooms and the steps and risers for the stairways. The floors will be made of tile, the contract for which has already been awarded.

PRELIMINARY WORK WAS DONE

Women's Clubs Form Closer City Federation.

REPRESENTATIVES ARE PRESENT

Representatives of Leading Local Organizations of Women Were Present.

That a great interest has been created in the subject of a city federation of women's clubs was shown by the largely attended meeting held yesterday at 4 o'clock in the drawing room of the Antlers hotel.

Mrs. Robert Kerr, president of the Woman's Literary club, called the meeting to order as was fitting, for she has been one of the enthusiastic promoters of this progressive step in club circles.

Mrs. C. A. Eldredge was unanimously chosen temporary chairman, as was Mrs. Ida Ham Ilon, temporary secretary.

The chair called for an introduction of the object of the meeting, which was incorporated in a motion offered by Miss Flansburg of the Four O'clock Progressive.

"I move that it is the sense of the meeting that a city federation of women's clubs be formed at once." After due discussion the motion was carried.

Advocating the motion, Miss Flansburg spoke of the benefits of federation as shown in the State and National Federations of Women's clubs as well as federation, union, generally.

In the carrying out of the departments of federation work that altruism is fostered which is for the good of the many instead of the few, and has accomplished so much in getting women out of the ole rute of drudgery and deed. The Bible admonitions were quoted. "Let your light shine." "Put not your light under a bushel," was women are doing in the small, exclusive club.

Miss Flansburg quoted from Tennyson's "The Palace of Art," as illustrative of a soul bound up in a selfish intellectual life, and by contrast, the altruistic, "Wide sphere, not to ourselves alone," and spoke of the hundreds of women in this city who would like to join clubs, but cannot get in.

Practically, federation could be advocated, as then a central place of meeting could be maintained and by concerted action upon the part of all women good entertainments, lectures, etc., could be secured at rates within reach of every one.

Mrs. Kerr spoke very convincingly in favor of city federation and referred to the splendid city managed woman's congress which was a taste of what women might do in Colorado Springs. That clubs outgrow the self-culture period and then cast about for something to do. Upwards of 300 women now belong to the various clubs and several hundred more were eager to join if an opportunity was afforded them.

Mrs. Ham Ilon made a strong plea for women in the middle walks of life, who are especially hungry for the stimulus offered by the unlimited club association.

Mrs. Hamilton fusing the chair, Mrs. Eldredge spoke very earnestly of the grand work accomplished by the Denver Woman's club and quoted from a pamphlet issued "to promote and encourage the formation of similar organizations."

Also the closing sentences of Mrs. Decker's introduction to the pamphlet:

"The club is a power in the city and state. It has taken the initiative in much good work, and, best of all, it has brought into loving companionship women of all creeds and conditions, has broken down social barriers, taught its members business methods and brought into the lives of many pleasure and profit through various branches of study and through happy, useful work."

While, from the outlook, there can exist no doubt that ultimately a large woman's club of several departments will be founded in Colorado Springs, just at present the subject of city federation is first.

Motion prevailed that the committee report to their respective clubs and then communicate with the secretary of the temporary organization, Mrs. Ham Ilon.

NEW CEMETERY SITE LOCATED

The question as to the location of the new road around Evergreen cemetery has not yet been settled by the county commissioners and the city council. A compromise will probably be reached soon, however. County Commissioner Fairall and one of the councilmen went out to the cemetery yesterday afternoon to look over the ground. The city authorities want the county to abandon its road through the cemetery and establish a new one along the west side. This will be done by the commissioners if the city builds an acceptable road on that side of the cemetery.

LOAD OF STONE FALLS ON WORKMAN'S ARM

A workman, whose name a reporter failed to learn, had his arm crushed and broken under a ton of rock or stone on Cheyenne mesa last evening. He was a teamster employed on the grading of the new Cheyenne boulevard, and while unloading stone the wagon tipped. Fortunately only his arm was crushed. It was broken above the wrist and elbow.

The injured man was taken to his home No. 624 North Weber street, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. [illegible].

[illegible] ARRIVALS

Two more mechanics lien suits were filed yesterday in the district court. The Houston Lumber company is the plaintiff in each case.

In one suit the defendants are Marion Richey, James Cain and the Colorado Springs company. The lumber company asks for $205.07 for lumber furnished for a house on lot 6, block 32, and that it be decreed to have a lien on the property and for the costs and attorney's fees.

The other suit was filed against Sara L. Eldredge and William Losey. The demand is for $85, costs and attorney's fees, and the plaintiff also demands that it be declared to have a lien on the property on a lot owned by the defendants in the Wasmuth addition.

In the county court Amelia J. Julien began a suit for divorce from her husband, Gerald Julien. They were married in Indiana in 1888 and have three children. Mrs. Julien alleges that her husband has deserted her and has kept his whereabouts a secret.

Lilly Y. Rader began suit in the district court against Charles White and Charles Page demanding that the defendants be required to make known the nature of their claims to lot 29, and part of lot 30, in White and Page's subdivision. The plaintiff claims the title to the property.

[illegible] CHARGES WITH [illegible]

Detective Atkinson went to Denver yesterday afternoon to bring back Albert Baker, alias A. E. Adams, who was arrested there on the charge of having swindled a number of Colorado Springs people. Baker will probably be arraigned today before Justice of the Peace McClellan. It is said in Denver that Baker has admitted some of the charges against him and that he gambled the money he obtained from his accusers at the resorts in Colorado City.

Baker is a painter and paper hanger, and a member of the Painters union. He is said to have secured $45 from W. H. Merwin, of this city, by representing that he needed the money to pay for a shipment of wall paper which was at the Santa Fe depot. Merwin says he gave the man the money and afterwards learned that the story told by Baker was false. The police say that Merwin was not the only victim of the aged swindler, but that he secured at least $300 more by false pretenses. Policeman Gillingham called Baker 5.

The warrant upon which Baker was arrested was sworn out by Merwin. He was taken into custody at the home of his mother, in Denver, at the instance of Chief of Police King of this city. Baker's wife was with him when he was arrested.

LOAN EXHIBIT WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

The loan art exhibit at Perkins Fine Arts hall will close this evening. It has been the finest and most successful occasion of its kind that the city has seen and reflects extreme credit upon Mrs. Louis Boutter, who has had it in charge from the beginning of preparations.

It will be open to the public this afternoon from 1 until 6 and this evening from 7 until 10.

The pictures will be taken down tomorrow.

[illegible] CLUB ENTERTAINS

A new feature will be inaugurated by the savings department of the Colorado Springs Trust company. This department of the bank now will be open for banking purposes from 6 to 8 o'clock Saturday evenings, beginning January 11.

The bank has found that many people who would deposit their savings have not the time to do so because of the inconvenience of banking hours. Wage-earners who work late every day have not the opportunity to visit the bank and so it has been decided to have the institution open for them on Saturday evenings. It is expected that this will result in the bank securing much new business.

CONSOLIDATED MINES A WONDER

The Production of the Wild Horse Shoot Has Been Startling—Big Dividends Are Promised.

One of the most wonderful producers in the entire Cripple Creek district is the Wild Horse mine of the Consolidated Mines company, which for the past 10 days has been outputting at the rate of over $1,400, net, per day. This is magnificent showing is duplicated by hardly another mine in the district, and from the present appearance of the mine it seems likely that the present rate of production can be maintained for a long time.

The ore is coming from different portions of the mine. Large stopes have been opened in the fifth and sixth levels, while in the bottom workings the ore shoots are showing up splendidly, more than making good the promises which the upper levels made for the lower workings of the property. The extent of the bonanza shoot has barely been determined on any level yet, and in the seventh level the development work is still in its infancy, but, at the same time, has progressed far enough to insure a brilliant future for the mine.

The Consolidated company will probably be enabled to pay a dividend rate as high as any mining company in Cripple Creek; and it is rumored that the January dividend will see a substantial increase over the rate which has prevailed for the last year or two of one cent. An extra dividend of nine cents was paid in December, without, it is understood, in any way embarrassing the treasury reserve of the company.

The Wild Horse mine is one of the splendid vindications of faith in minimveil-located ground. For a long time only meager encouragement was given to its operators, but development work was never relaxed; and the opening of the very rich shoot of ore last year will stand as one of the banner events in the history of the camp; and it indicates a very prosperous future for this section of Cripple Creek.

ISABELLA CONTROL WILL CHANGE

The Latest Report Is That the Wall Street Syndicate Has Secured Control of Proxies.

There is a great deal of confidence manifested at the headquarters of the minority Isabella movement; and it is confidently predicted that it will be a walk-away for the opposition, and that the control is already as good as wrested from the present management. For a week proxies have been coming in to those who are at the head of the movement; and several brokers in the city and Denver have been receiving requests for duplicate proxies, many of the requests being from those who have already sent one proxy to the present management. All brokerage houses are supplied with the proxies, so that there is no delay in supplying all who desire them; and as the proxy bearing the latest date is the one which carries the voting power, it is thought likely that the day of the meeting will find a swarm of them casting their votes for a new management.

Although a duplicate list of stockholders has been made out by the company and furnished to Messrs. Giddings and Lennox, the undersigned with Mr. Williams was that these gentlemen should not make the list public, so that only those directly concerned have seen it. It was reported yesterday afternoon that it shows a very small holding on the part of the president of the company compared to the amount which he was generally supposed to hold; and considering this and the fact that the stockholders at large are showing so much eagerness to get themselves under a new directorate, it is thought there will be no fight at all for the control, but that it will pass quietly to those who are seeking to gain it.

DIVIDEND DECLARED

At the Customary Rate of Six Cents per Share, Making Total of $180,000 Distributed.

The directors of the Portland Gold Mining company met yesterday in the offices of the company in the Bank block and declared the usual quarterly dividend of the company at the customary rate of six cents per share. As there are 3,000,000 shares outstanding the total amount to be distributed is $180,000, and this will be paid on the 15th inst., to stockholders whose names appear on the company's books on the 9th inst. When this dividend is paid the company will have distributed a total of $4,207,080, nearly four and a quarter millions.

The company has its mill nearing completion now, although it is not thought that it will be in full operation until spring. When it is running it is expected that the company will be making much greater profits, and an increase in the dividend rate may possibly be inaugurated during the coming year. The officers are extremely busy at this season in getting up the annual reports of the company which will be published in about four weeks. The Portland company is famous for its very beautiful and comprehensive reports, and it is understood the one to be published this year will surpass all previous ones.

The resources of the mine are variously estimated, some enthusiastic persons placing the reserve as high as $30,000,000; but this is thought to be absurd in informed circles. On the other hand there are those who claim the only reason the mine was not sold a year ago was that it would not stand Mr. Bradley's examination; but this view is also accepted as going to the other extreme by the conservative element. Everyone, however, acknowledges the Portland to be a great mine.

COMPANIES ASKED FOR INFORMATION

By the Exchange, Which Will Enable Brokers to Make Distinction Between the Active and Inactive Companies.

Circulars were being mailed yesterday by the Colorado Springs Mining Stock association requesting all the companies listed on the exchange, with the exception of those who are in the habit of making full quarterly or annual reports, to send to the secretary of the association a full statement of the condition of the property and of the company. This will include information as to financial standing, either assets or liabilities or both; expenses and other data; and an account of what, if any, work is in progress on the properties.

This information is asked of the companies that information may be compiled to give a new, or partially new, arrangement of the lists. It has been suggested that a distinction should be made between active and inactive companies; and that it is imperative that traders should know the extent of a company's indebtedness and other information of equal importance. The brokers have had many requests for this information, and the exchange is requesting it partly for their benefit, but at the same time it is thought that stocks will be classified in "active" and "inactive" lists, which would be much more significant than the present arrangement. It will be impossible to known how far this plan can be carried out, however, until the information is received.

The circulars went out on the 20th inst. When many companies apply for listing on the exchange they agree to furnish full information whenever it is requested of them, so that no difficulty is anticipated in getting the desired facts.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

The quarterly dividend of the Gold King company is due this month, but it will probably be passed, as the showing in the property does not warrant the payment of regular dividends. The company is somewhat hindered in its deep development work by water, and the ore bodies in the upper levels are being gradually exhausted. This mine was the first one to ship ore from Cripple Creek, and its future is no less now unpromising, although it is understood how important the mine will become after the water is conquered. Outside of this property, no producer in the immediate locality has ever called upon for a long time as a happy anomaly, or pointed out to by ambitious promoters of adjacent properties as an example of the mineral possibilities of the region.

[illegible] MINE [illegible]

Mr. Edward Sawyer, who was the former superintendent of the Cresson corporation mill at Cripple Creek, is reported to be at the head of a large mining company that is considering the purchase of this old concentrator in with a view of starting it at once. An inspection of the property is now being made and if the terms can be arranged satisfactorily a new low grade process of treatment will be installed. It is stated that if the experiments which are intended to be made are successful the company will erect a 60-ton plant if the ore property can be obtained at a reasonable price.

The Free Coinage Gold company is outputting more ore now than at any time in the mine's history. The property is now being managed by [illegible], the father-in-law of [illegible]. Judge Luther A. Goddard has also been on the mine occasionally of late, and is working five men. The drifts are being extended in the third level on the ore shoot. The shipment was the cleaning up of the ore mined previous to the purchase. The shaft on this property is being sunk rapidly to a point from which lateral work can be prosecuted to advantage.

A 28-ton shipment was sent out yesterday by the Anaconda company from the new strike made in the tunnel level some 400 feet below the surface. The shoot has been drifted on about 50 feet and the average width of the pay streak is about three feet. Stoping will be started at once and a winze sunk on the shoot. Superintendent Hawkins of the property is of the opinion that it is one of the best finds yet made on Anaconda company's ground.

W. O. Bowman, leasing on the Pinnacle of the German-American company, which came to be operating through the Opael adjoining, has encountered two feet of ore, averaging $28 a ton, at a winze sunk to a depth of 30 feet from the tunnel level. The depth from surface is 350 feet. A shipment will be made the last of the week.

Returns from a carload shipment on the Summer Rose on the Gold Bond property on Gold Hill were received recently. The ore brought $28 a ton. A good showing of ore is reported in the 15-foot level, where the vein measures 2½ feet between walls.

An output of 100 tons a day is being made from the Lady Bonnie, owned by the Colorado Cycle company. This production will be increased to 150 tons in the near future. The rock averages about $8 a ton.

W. [illegible], who is leasing on the north workings of the Cresson property on the Zenobia shaft, is breaking into a two or three stopes on the 400-foot level, and is moving to a more favorable location.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Jan. 3.—The mining news of the week is just reaching stock market was lights again today. Golden Cycle sold lightly at 7 and Vindicator prices were dispose. No rule slight indicator was in demand at $1.21. Portland strong although there were enough lots, however, sold to the amount of instances of coupons to leave only the 200 shares at $2.68, and Isabella weak characteristic of "specialty" title to stand off slightly, although the trading mostly to the market. The trading was light. Nellie Y. was in some demand at 4, and there seems to be a good deal of speculative interest in Elkton which been rather active, and making "realized" quotations of $1.50, and in El Paso, which, tional gains for several days, reaching $2.60 to $2.65. The trading in Dixon was light today. This mine is understood to be very large, and there is much evidence, be making a very good showing. THE PROBLEM.

DOROTHY in the nursery can calculate the price of Ivory Soap per cake, but it would take a mathematical genius to calculate its true value. For he must take account of time, labor, and materials. He must deduct from the apparent cost the saving in the longer life of the cake, in the longer life of the washed fabric, in the labor required, in the time consumed, in the strength expended, in the results obtained. When all is finished, Ivory is the cheapest soap in the world. It floats.

"Rip Van Winkle" Played Last Night.

A very enjoyable performance of "Rip Van Winkle" was given at the Opera house last evening, with Thomas Jefferson playing the title role. To compare Mr. Jefferson's work with that of his illustrious father were entirely unfair, but judged entirely on its own merits, the acting must be acknowledged sympathetic, careful and artistic to a high degree, showing almost every phase of Rip's character, which, while it was hardly complex, still admits the portrayal of a variety of emotions. In the first part he was the irresponsible, good-natured, tippler, and Mr. Jefferson was easy and convincing; while the last part was very carefully done. The impression of Rip's stiff joints was admirably rendered, and the wonderment and pathos of the meetings was carried through with great feeling. If any criticism's could be ventured, it would probably be that these last scenes were slightly overacted; the art being hot quite skillful enough to conceal itself.

"Rip Van Winkle" has its dramatic aspects. Irving appreciated this very keenly when he wrote the sketch. The return of a man to his old home after a sleep of 20 years is essentially dramatic. But strung out into a five-act drama, it is almost entirely a character play; and as such it has acquired its fame. Rip is the center and the circumference of the whole performance. The supporting company last evening was weak, as a whole. The characters reeled. When Rip returned and declared himself, they repeated after him "Rip Van Winkle?" in tones without a trace of incredulity or astonishment, thus robbing the scene of its most dramatic significance; and his daughter stood before him and said in the most school-girl manner: "Why do you gaze so fondly and anxiously on me?" An exception must be made of Margaret Hayward, who played Dame Van Winkle, with at least genuine feeling, and some dramatic force; of Walter Colligan who took the part of Derrick Von Beekman in the second part with much skill; and of two extremely clever children. The piece was well mounted with entirely adequate scenery, the scene of the mountains where Hendrick Hudson and his company stood awaiting Rip arousing applause from the audience.

Akers Resigns the Presidency

The Colorado College Athletic association held a meeting yesterday at which plans for the baseball season were discussed.

Prof. L. A. E. Akers, who, as president of the association, has been untiring in his efforts to place the college athletics to the fore, tendered his resignation. He retires because of other college duties which require his full attention. The association passed a vote of thanks for Prof. Akers. A committee of five was appointed to suggest the name of Prof. Akers' successor.

W. B. Van Norman, who managed the football team with great satisfaction last fall, was elected manager of the baseball team.

The varsity "C" was voted to every member of last year's baseball and football teams.

Another meeting will be held next Tuesday when other matters of importance will come up.

Early Morning Fire Burned Two Buildings

Electric light wires set fire to a workshop in the rear of the Van Briggle pottery works on North Nevada avenue shortly after midnight this morning, and before it was extinguished the shop and an adjoining barn had been totally destroyed.

The fire was discovered by some people who were going home late and it gained considerable headway before an alarm box could be found. Box 22, at the corner of Nevada avenue and Monument street, was found finally and the alarm was turned in. The department got out in exceptionally quick time and soon had two lines of hose playing on the burning buildings. The fire had communicated to the adjoining barn before the department arrived. Both buildings were destroyed but the work of the department saved several frame buildings near by which were threatened. The loss will be about $ 000.

The shop which burned first was owned by A. Sutton but was being used by Harry Bange of the Van Briggle pottery. This was not the main pottery building and there was nothing of value in it. It was reported that a man slept there but investigation proved this to be untrue. The barn was owned by Dr. Gates who is at present out of the city. There were a number of chickens in it but no horses. The chickens were burned up.

The fire played havoc with the electric light system. There were a number of wires running directly over the building and a north end officer saw the first blaze and states that it was caused by the wires. A big cable leading to the down town power house of the electric company ran down the alley and it was necessary to cut this. This threw the city in darkness and tore instantaneous which run at night had to get along with make-shift lights.

ENTERTAINED EMPLOYEES AT PEIFA'S STORE

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Falk entertained the young women of Peifa's store and their friends last evening at No. 529 Jefferson street. Mrs. Falk, formerly Miss Maud Bridges, was at one time an employee at Peifa's store. Cards were played last evening and an elaborate lunch was served.

GERMANY AND VENEZUELA.

Berlin, Jan. 8.—The attention of the foreign office has been directed to the recurrence of stories to the effect that Germany is about to send an ultimatum to Venezuela. The foreign office has again informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that a reply from President Castro from Venezuela to a note handed him January 2 by the German charge d'affaires at Caracas (Herr Von Pilgrim Baltazzi) has not yet been received. That Germany will give Castro a reasonable time in which to answer and that she will act promptly to press the claims of her subjects.

ATTRACTIONS

"THE DEVIL'S AUCTION."

One of the best attractions of the season will be seen at the Opera house tomorrow evening.

A noted dramatic writer stated in one of his recent articles that real ballet dancing or performances of pantomime and artistic dancing were fast becoming a "lost art," that the production of great and costly spectacles was not confined to one or two persons who had made large fortunes in this respective line, and generally deplored the loss of the graceful coryphee and premiere dancer who, in exemplifying the "poetry of motion," appealed more to his artistic taste than the latest society "review" or extravaganza with its local color and generally "tender oin motif." Ballet dancing is far from being a lost art. There is no regular corps de ballet in this country outside of grand opera, such as is presented at the massive Metropolitan opera house, in New York city, and by Charles H. Yale who gives in his spectacular production of "The Everlasting Devil's Auction," a full and complete corps de ballet. Premieres, secundos, maitre de ballerina and artistic divertisements are presented in each act of this popular spectacle, performed and danced by clever principal dancers and ballerina.

Outside of grand opera and Manager Yale's attractions there is no other bona fide corps de ballet in this country. The point, however, of the aforesaid writer is not well taken. The fact is that spectacle and ballet properly produced, is a very expensive affair. Take for instance the scenery in the "Review." There are generally three scenes or full stage "sets." In a spectacle, from 12 to 15, not counting the transformation scene which generally is very elaborate.

Take again the costuming. In a spectacle the dressing of a big show costs a fortune.

The "Review" being general y of modern subject and local make-up, there is not that costly expenditure as in a spectacle.

Finally, a first-class "front line" coryphee can command full $10 a week more than the "merry, merry chorus." Hence the attempted substitution of the chorus ladies for the coryphee with some attractions. However, it can be amply proven that ballet dancing is not a lost art. It is simply a plain case of substitution.

THE "PRINCESS CHIC" OPERA CO.

The sale of seats will begin this morning for the engagement of Kirke LaShelle's dashing and romantic opera comique, "The Princess Chic," at the Opera house Monday evening. The piece is said to be notable for no only the quantity but the quality of its music as well as for the dash and swing of its lyric lines and for the genuinely romantic atmosphere of its libretto. The opera is rather unique among contemporary comic operas in that its plot is really consistent and has much dramatic power. The chief characters in the romance are the Princess Chic, of Normandy, and Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy. Other characters in the opera are King Louis XI. of France; the chamberlains of the duke and princess; Lorraine, the page of the princess, and a couple of ragmuffin sea waifs who profess to be soldiers of fortune. The chorus of 50 people is used to represent huntsmen, retainers, men-at-arms, peasants, cavaliers and courtiers. The time of the opera is 1468 and the place, the Chateau of Charles the Bold, in Burgundy. The opera is recalled by those who have seen it as being notable, not only for the lavish beauty of its scenery and costumes, but for the beauty of its music and the brightness of its libretto. Manager Kirke LaShelle has taken the greatest pains in selecting the company to provide for the vocal excellence of the performances, and the company numbers in its cast some of the very best artists on the American operatic stage.

KEMPTON KOMEDIANS.

The Kempton Komedy Kompany begins a three-day engagement at the Temple theater tonight. This company played in this city two years ago for 12 nights and had the biggest houses ever drawn by a Temple theater attraction.

It is not a cheap barn-storming company but a company of merit which has won much favorable comment all over the country. It has a splendid repertoire and the three nights and Saturday afternoon performances should be greeted by large audiences. It is seldom that such a good attraction is offered the public of Colorado Springs at popular prices but the regular prices of the house will prevail. Tickets are on sale at Briscoe & Ammerman's book store. Ladies will be admitted free tonight. One of the exchanges in speaking of the company says:

"The perfection of realism; the acme of stage ingenuity; the wonderful raft scene, the most realistic stage picture ever presented! Winning encomiums from press and public everywhere. There is not a character, line, scene, incident or situation in this grand revival production of "The World," that resembles any other play ever presented under similar title. This is the original which has moved audiences to tears, laughter and cheers."

First performance tonight. Tickets at Briscoe & Ammerman's book store. Ladies free tonight.

ARRAIGN IN NEW HAVEN.

By Associated Press.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 8.—The session day was observed here tonight by the New Haven Democratic club. W. J. Bryan was the guest and chief speaker. Mr. Bryan spoke at a banquet and also at a public meeting in Music hall.

"It is impossible to suppress anarchy," he said, "by penal statute. It must be overcome by teaching the necessity of government and by making the government so beneficent that men will be willing to die to preserve and protect it." He denied that the money question is a dead issue; asserting the supreme court decision in the Downs case and expressed the opinion that the valor of the Boers, despite reverses, had cost Great Britain so dearly that republics all over the world, wherever situated, would be safe."

Suffered 20 Years. Cured of Piles.

A. L. Wesley, Allen, W. Va., writes: "I suffered from piles for 20 years, trying many remedies and doctors, but got no relief. Was induced to try Pyramid Pile Cure and was entirely cured by using one package." Pyramid Pile Cure gives instant relief and cures piles of every kind. Druggists, 50 cents.

Steinway

"Ah, the dear away! What a piano! Everyone that has ever played one or even heard one would not return to another. There is a certain sympathetic quality of tone, so beautiful in tone. Actually that touch and tone. Mozart and Beethoven, could they hear their symphonies performed on this piano, tears would flow from the eyes and run down the cheeks, to hear them."

By Associated Press.

Negaunee, Mich., Jan. 8.—Up to 6 o'clock tonight the rescue of miners working as a rescue force had been unable to penetrate the Negaunee mine, the scene of yesterday's disastrous cave-in. The officials of the Negaunee mine today announced that only nine men are in the mine. The dead, according to this statement are:

WILLIAM WILLIAMS, pit foreman.
JOHN SULLIVAN, pump man.

SUGAR TRUST WANTS DUTIES REMOVED

By Associated Press.

New York, Jan. 8.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Sugar Refining company in Jersey City, today President Havemeyer presented his annual report. He said:

"It would seem that with an overflowing federal treasury there had disappeared any reason for continuing the existing short tariff upon raw sugars. It constitutes a cruel tax upon the consumption of nearly two cents a pound.

"This represents on an annual consumption of 7,300,000 tons of 2[illegible],000,000 a year. Of this, however, only 1,[illegible] tons are imported; yielding customs revenues of $44,000,000. The balance, $26,000,000, goes into the pockets of the planters.

"A removal of this duty on raw sugar would result in a saving to consumers of $[illegible],000,000."

CAPTAIN WELL PICKED.

By Associated Press.

San Francisco, Jan. 8.—Adolph Sprockels, son of the California sugar king, has received a telegram from Sir Simmons which indicates that the German nobleman is ready to enter the ring and fight Jeffries if suitable arrangements can be made. In the telegram Sir Simmons asked the millionaire if he would back him for $5,000 against the present champion, to take the fighters' entire share of the gate receipts.

A PANAMA CANAL.

By Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Admiral Walker of the canal commission, called at the White house today and presented to the President A. E. Lamore, secretary-general of the Panama company. Mr. Lamore did not present the petition of his company, for the sale of the property, nor did he talk to the president regarding it.

Tosca Farmer for Salon.

Mr. John Ware, the eminent actor, who has been touring America, says that the most complimentary comment he ever received came from Mr. Gaston Mayo. The late Premier had never seen a performance of the actor, but he knew him as we. became the scenes as before the footlights. During the run of "A Pair of Spectacles" Mr. Gaston frequently visited the green room of the Garrick to have a chat with the actor. The really old man and the made-up old man would sit there and talk for the most delightful way for an hour after the show.

One day the son of Monsieur had Mr. Coquelin to dinner, and he said to the French Joan Ware. The actor came a smooth-faced, good-looking man. He was presented to Mr. Coquelin, and the latter looked at him most earnestly and said:

"My dear sir, I am very, very glad to meet you. Now your father very [illegible] Spanish actor! [illegible]"

THE COLORADO SKY

By PROF. FRANK E. LOUD,
Director of the Colorado College Observatory.

Under this head it is proposed to present each week to the readers of the Gazette a short sketch of some astronomical or meteorological topic. The local importance of the latter of these subjects is generally recognized, and it is believed that many of our citizens would like to review for their own satisfaction, and now and then to send to friends in other states, an epitome of the weather conditions which have prevailed here for the preceding month. On the other hand, the interest in astronomical matters is evinced by the unprecedented number of visitors each Thursday evening at the college observatory. It is largely for the sake of actual and prospective visitors that the preparation of these articles is undertaken, the purpose being to indicate what at the time, are the objects of especial interest to be examined with the telescope, and to answer some of the questions naturally arising about these objects. At the same time, the interest of those who seek to follow the ever-changing panorama of the heavens from their homes, with field-glasses or with the unassisted eye, will not be absent to mask the former.

THE PLANET VENUS.

It will be seen that the principal object of interest at present is the planet Venus, which attains greatest brilliancy today. It is easily visible to the naked eye in the early me, provided one knows where to look for it. To test this fact, select the time of sout ing, nine minutes before 3 p. m., as indicated by the calendar, and, with the aid, perhaps, of the north and south line given approximately by the side of a building, look directly south at the height of 40 degrees, or about the same height at which the north star is seen in the evening in the opposite quarter of the heavens. It may be that the object will not be found for minutes, but when it is once seen, the observer will be surprised at its brightness, and will wonder that it has not long previous at first glance. To aid in fixing the true spot, a parchment triangle may be cut out, having sides of five and six inches respectively, a right angle to one another. Set the six-inch side horizontal and point due south at the exact time given by the calendar; and set the five-inch side be vertical. Then the eye sighting along the third side should see the planet.

Venus is the member of the solar system most resembling the earth in size, atmosphere, and human city. It is a most the only body visible in the heavens, upon which we can, without contradicting known facts, imagine human beings as residing comfortably if once they could be transported thither. It also approaches the earth within a shorter distance than any other known body, with the except on of the moon and the newly discovered asteroid Eros. At the same time, the amount of actual know edge respect ng its surface is provokingly small,—far inferior to that which we have concern ng Mars. The planet is at present on the hither side of the sun, in consequence of which the illuminated part is mostly turned away from us, that which is visible taking the form of a crescent, as easily seen in a small telescope. The present distance from the earth is 38,700,000 miles.

Is your Hair worth One Dollar?

If so, buy a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide and [illegible]. That quadruff that is slowly but surely rendering you bald, [illegible] is the only preparation on the market that really does stop it. For it is the only one that kills the microbe at work on the hair roots, thus destroying the cause and consequently removing the effect.

One trial will convince you, the time as it has that "doubting Thomas."

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 1, '01.
When I began using Herpicide a few months ago my hair was the majority of such preparations [illegible] thought it would improve a little but it has [illegible] stopped falling and even more, [illegible] new hair is growing from my hair is growing [illegible] abundantly.

Annual January Sale
LADIES' LEADER

This great sale comes but once a year. Then it is that muslin wear of every kind is offered here in greater variety and at lower prices than at any other time.

Why so? Because at this season we can handle enormous quantities and enhanced purchasing power means lowest possible prices. We can sell cheaper because we buy cheaper.

Great banks of snowy whiteness greet you at every turn in our Lingerie Department, second floor. The most varied and largest collection ever congregated under our roof. Come tomorrow—don't delay.

White Goods and Embroideries
Advance Arrivals.

There is an advantage of excuses in selecting from these early arrivals. The laces are so rushed as the season advances that discrimination is well nigh impossible.

Every known weave is here in white goods. In Embroideries the matched sets are probably the most interesting—allovers, embroideries, insertions and edges to match.

Two special quotes to promote interest:

100 pieces of fine Nainsook Edges, worth 15, 18, 25, 30c, to close quickly, yard 2½c

50 pieces Hamburger two-inch Embroideries and narrow Nainsook Edges; were 10c, 12½c, 15c; now, yard 5c

All Silk PAJAMAS LINEN

In glancing back over the linen industry of the past century—from the humble spinster and her quaint looms, to the modern methods of weaving—it shows a progress most wonderful and interesting. Today it has reached the Zenith of perfection. Inventive brains have enabled us to manufacture lines as good as the old and the rapid treatment makes them cheaper. That there are poor linens now is true, too many, in fact, but from careful study our knowledge has reached a proficiency where deception is impossible. And then our close connections with the leading manufacturers of the world enables us at all times to place before our public lines that are thoroughly reliable. For this sale we have exerted our best efforts and now show the choicest line in the history of our business. Do the following items tempt you?

TOWELS
A good size linen towel with colored borders. The kind you pay $1.50 dozen for. This sale $1.25
A colored border crash towel, size 18x36, very durable, $2.00 dozen, was the regular price. Now $1.75
An extra heavy all linen towel, 17x38 inches. Worth $2.25 dozen. This sale $2.00
The best Turkish bath towel on the market, made to sell for $3.50 dozen. This sale $2.75
30 pieces of glass toweling in plaid effects, 16 inches wide. A decidedly good value at 12½c per yard. A snap at 9c

DOMESTIC
Full 72-inch extra heavy satin-finished damask in a variety of many patterns; worth $1.00 and $1.20 yard. A record breaker at 75c
Full 68-inch all linen table damask. Good 50c value. This sale 39c
Good 60-inch full bleached table damask, a cracker-jack. This sale 50c
Handsome linen machine patterns—cloths and napkins. All the extra sizes, 2x2, 10x12, 12x12, from $15.00 to $75.00 each. This is the only store in the state, carrying the extra size patterns. This sale, your choice at 50% off
